

Gardening Tip

Adding mulch around vegetable plants in the fall is one way to protect them through colder temperatures and extend your growing season.

